and that brings us to this year’s ICAS meeting. Nobody could have predicted that it would take 21 years before ICAS would return to its place of birth. Has it fully grown up? By no means. There is still a world and more to explore for this fledgling. Yet we have learned a lot over the past 2 decades and hope to bring our combined experiences to this meeting on our home ground.

Asia and Europe. Asia in Europe.

Considering the location, the theme of this year’s ICAS is ‘Asia and Europe. Asia in Europe’. And to make it more of a European affair, we reached out to some friends of ours who we collaborate with more frequently, and asked if they would join us in this endeavour. We were delighted when GIS Asie (French Academic Network for Asian Studies) agreed to come on board as co-organisers and incorporate their own biennial conference into the ICAS programme. They are also the main sponsor of the French-language ICAS Book Prize (read more about GIS Asia on pp.10-11 of this issue).

Holding the convention in Leiden means that the ICAS team is not only performing its regular secretarial tasks, but also those of co-organiser, together with GIS Asie and local host Leiden University. From the outset, we knew this would mean more work for us, but we had no idea of what was to come. Compared to our usual 1000-1200 participants, this edition will be welcoming more than 2200 attendees to Leiden this summer! They hail from 75 countries and represent all conceivable fields of research within the Asia-related Humanities and Social Sciences, Civil Society and the Arts.

As we do for every edition of ICAS, we like to connect with the city where it is being held. So too this time in Leiden. Leiden University is our local host, housing the event in its buildings and sponsoring the attendance of a very large number of scholars. The City of Leiden has also proven to be very generous: it is a main sponsor and has helped us deal with much of the bureaucratic elements of organising such an event. Many of the ICAS activities will take place outdoors or in other public venues, so that more of the city’s residents and business owners may enjoy and profit from this sudden influx of more than 2200 visitors. See more about these activities below.

The academic programme of ICAS 11 is also bigger than ever; it includes close to 550 panel sessions, roundtables, and book /PhD presentations. The programme will commence on 16 July with a festive parade through the streets of Leiden, which will lead the participants to the Hooglandse Kerk where the convention’s opening will take place. The attendees will be greeted by music from the pipe organ as they file into the gothic church, after which they will be welcomed by a number of representatives of the university, organisers and the city. During the ceremony we will be announcing the winners of the ICAS Book and Dissertation Prizes, and presenting them with their awards.

The Book Prize is bigger and better than ever, and now includes yet one more language edition: Spanish/Portuguese. We will wrap up the formal procedures with an extraordinary performance, brought to us by Henri Tournier and Erik/Jürgen Dandarvanchig, in which they combine Western, Indian and Mongolian musical elements.

As you make your way between the two main ICAS venues, Kamerlingh Onnes and Lipius, you may choose to take a short walk along the Rapenburg canal, or instead you could walk through the Pieterskerkplein (Pater’s Church Square) at the heart of the ICAS area, where you will come across our Food and Cultural Market. At this market, especially organised for ICAS, but open to the public as well, you will be able to enjoy a selection from Dutch and Asian cuisines, and be entertained by a number of artisans performing age old Dutch traditions, such as clog crafting, liquorice making and ‘ship in bottle’ building. There will be musical elements such as a vinyl DJ on a bakfiets, and perhaps even a martial arts performance. The market will be operational everyday between 16-19 July, from 12pm-8pm (although we will wrap up earlier on the Tuesday when all ICAS participants will be making their way to the ICAS opening ceremony). This means that you can have lunch and dinner at the market if you choose, or at least a drink after the last panel, which ends at 18h/5.

The two main venues of ICAS 11 (Lipius and Kamerlingh Onnes) will be hosting an exhibition area for the ICAS Asian studies book fair (the full list of over 30 exhibitors can be found on the conference website). Here you will find Asian studies-related publishers, institutes and service providers exhibiting their wares. In addition, a good number of acquisition editors will be present to connect with potential authors. ICAS has, in the past facilitated many a happy meeting and new publications.

Public activities

Quite a few of our planned activities will cater for the public as well. They include (complete details available online):

- the ICAS 11 Film Festival, curated by Roshi Sengupta (IIAS Fellow and Lecturer at Leiden Institute for Asia Studies). The films and documentaries will be on show in Lipius room #019, with a special viewing at Trianon cinema on 18 July.
- ‘Divine Encounters’, a photo exhibition by Han Kemp, at Leiden City Hall.
- ‘Humanity’s End as a New Beginning: World Disasters in Myths’, a photo exhibition by Kuriya Yamaguchi in the former University Library at Rapenburg 70.
- ‘Heritage on the Move’, a photo exhibition by Leiden Global, in Kamerlingh Onnes, C-hallway.
- ‘The IAS Academic Freedom Speakeasy’, meeting place for discussions on academic freedom, at the Stijkhof Cultural Centre.

Please be advised that you will have to register online for a few of these events: https://diyurl.com/ICAS11FR

Connecting to the host city (and country)

As we do for every edition of ICAS, we like to connect with the city where it is being held. So too this time in Leiden. Leiden University is our local host, housing the event in its buildings and sponsoring the attendance of a very large number of scholars. The City of Leiden has also proven to be very generous: it is a main sponsor and has helped us deal with much of the bureaucratic elements of organising such an event. Many of the ICAS activities will take place outdoors or in other public venues, so that more of the city’s residents and business owners may enjoy and profit from this sudden influx of more than 2200 visitors. See more about these activities below.

The academic programme of ICAS 11 is also bigger than ever; it includes close to 550 panel sessions, roundtables, and book /PhD presentations. The programme will commence on 16 July with a festive parade through the streets of Leiden, which will lead the participants to the Hooglandse Kerk where the convention’s opening will take place. The attendees will be greeted by music from the pipe organ as they file into the gothic church, after which they will be welcomed by a number of representatives of the university, organisers and the city. During the ceremony we will be announcing the winners of the ICAS Book and Dissertation Prizes, and presenting them with their awards.

The Book Prize is bigger and better than ever, and now includes yet one more language edition: Spanish/Portuguese. We will wrap up the formal procedures with an extraordinary performance, brought to us by Henri Tournier and Erik/Jürgen Dandarvanchig, in which they combine Western, Indian and Mongolian musical elements.

As you make your way between the two main ICAS venues, Kamerlingh Onnes and Lipius, you may choose to take a short walk along the Rapenburg canal, or instead you could walk through the Pieterskerkplein (Pater’s Church Square) at the heart of the ICAS area, where you will come across our Food and Cultural Market. At this market, especially organised for ICAS, but open to the public as well, you will be able to enjoy a selection from Dutch and Asian cuisines, and be entertained by a number of artisans performing age old Dutch traditions, such as clog crafting, liquorice making and ‘ship in bottle’ building. There will be musical elements such as a vinyl DJ on a bakfiets, and perhaps even a martial arts performance. The market will be operational everyday between 16-19 July, from 12pm-8pm (although we will wrap up earlier on the Tuesday when all ICAS participants will be making their way to the ICAS opening ceremony). This means that you can have lunch and dinner at the market if you choose, or at least a drink after the last panel, which ends at 18h/5.
ICAS can seriously change your orientation

Paul van der Velde, ICAS Secretary

The market will not be the only lunch venue during ICAS 11. Kamerlingh Onnes and Lipsius both have a university restaurant, and we have also teamed up with a large number of cafés and restaurants in the immediate vicinity, where ICAS participants will be made to feel welcome. Our decision to spread out the lunch options across various establishments fits in with our recurring wish to have as many local businesses as possible reap the benefits from ICAS.

Distances in the Netherlands are very small when compared to basically any other country in the world. Where most people would not bat an eye at commuting everyday for an hour or more, the Dutch just might. Commutes in the Netherlands are more commonly a 20-minute bike ride! But what this means is that you should not restrict your visit to Leiden, you can easily expand your experience into the rest of the country, where the furthest national destination is probably no more than a 2-hour train ride away. Think of all the world famous museums in the Randstad cities, not to mention the stunning Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam or the Kröller-Müller museum in the Hoge Veluwe.

Looking forward

For the first time ICAS will end with a blast – so make sure to stay till the very end! The grand closing party will take place at the City Auditorium (Stadsgehoorzaal), a beautiful concert hall in the middle of Leiden. There will be live music, karaoke, drinks, bites, dancing, and hopefully some really good unwinding and celebrating after a productive and inspiring convention week.

The location of ICAS 12 (to be held in 2022) will be unveiled during the opening ceremony of this current convention. We will maintain the surprise for now, but rest assured we will again make sure to link the conference to the city/country in every way possible. ICAS is never simply a purely academic endeavour – it is creating, sharing and collecting knowledge, it is network building and facilitating new partnerships, it is learning from those beyond academia (such as civil society and practitioners), it is recognising great research, publications and effective projects, it is showcasing the arts, it is enjoying time spent with like-minded people, and it is so much more.

We hope you will all join us at the next instalment of the convention, but for now, we look forward to welcoming you to Leiden for ICAS 11 this summer. Though with this being only our first instalment of the convention, but for now, we look forward to welcoming you to Leiden for ICAS 11 this summer. Though with this being the Netherlands – how the weather will be, nobody knows!