Change and continuity, transformation and commitment

Philippe Peycam

Change is the nature of things, and the last months have been rich in new developments for IIAS. The main one was the decision to resort to an online ICAS event, set to commence alongside the publication of this edition of The Newsletter. As well as being a window into academia and beyond, The Newsletter is a free publication produced by IIAS. As well as being a window into academia and beyond, The Newsletter is a free publication produced by IIAS. The Newsletter also links IIAS with the worldwide public interested in Asia and Asian studies. The Newsletter bridges the gap between specialist knowledge and public discourse, and continues to serve as a forum for scholars to share research, commentary and opinion with colleagues in academia and beyond.
